Dressage NSW is once again delighted to host the New South Wales Dressage Championships at the Sydney International Equestrian Centre, Horsley Park. Due to covid we have not been able to run the championship for the last two years, so we are looking forward to making the 2023 Championships a huge success!

The Championships will be held over four days from Thursday, 31st August to Sunday, 3rd September 2023. We estimate we will run over 1000 individual tests over all levels of competition from Preliminary to Grand Prix and will also include Amateur Owner, Pony and Para-Equestrian Riders competing for the illustrious title of 2022 NSW State Champion at their level.

We expect to have over 200 competitors plus owners and helpers from all over NSW and Interstate in attendance across the four days of elite competition. The championships will attract a lot of interest from equestrian enthusiasts and the general public. Admission is free for spectators to attend across the event.

The Otto Sport Ebb & Flow Indoor Arena will host most of the FEI Competitions across the four days finishing with the prestigious Grand Prix Freestyle to Music on Sunday. There will also be six competition arenas running each day, so plenty of action for everyone .

Our Trade Village area is offered first and foremost to our very generous sponsors . Sponsors will be offered attractive rates and access to prime locations within our trade village. Our Trade Village will also feature daily award presentations for competitions which will bring many riders and supporters through the village.

The NSW Dressage Championships provide an affordable and targeted marketing opportunity for sponsors to promote their products and services to the Dressage and wider equestrian community.

What is Dressage NSW Incorporated ?

Dressage NSW Inc (DNSW) (formerly the NSW Dressage Council and referred to by many as the DC) became a Discipline Council of the N.S.W. Branch of Equestrian Australia in 1986. Until that time the Council had been in existence as the NSW Dressage Association which was formed in 1967.

Equestrian Australia is affiliated with the international body for Equestrian sport, the Federation Equestre Internationale (FEI). It is also affiliated with the Australian Olympic Committee (AOC).

DNSW is the controlling body for dressage riding in the State of NSW. It is committed to the development and promotion of the sport from junior level to Olympic representation. It seeks to improve all aspects of competition to internationally accepted levels and provides a comprehensive service to its members.

Organisation Structure

DNSW has currently around 800 members. Approximately 55 Regional and Metropolitan Dressage & Riding Clubs from throughout NSW are affiliated with the DNSW/ENSW.

DNSW has its home grounds at the Hawkesbury Showground at Clarendon. Facilities include three sand arenas, two sand warm-up areas, a scoring office, a site office and stabling. These facilities have been paid for by the membership and the grounds are maintained by the Committee of DNSW.

Activities at Clarendon

At Clarendon, DNSW conducts official/associate dressage competitions, special competition days, riders clinics and training days. Other events such as the Young Rider Championships and, depending on the year, the State Dressage Championships are also held at Clarendon.

DNSW holds regular judges seminars and workshops for all levels of judges from Probationary through to FEI level. The purpose of these seminars is to train and examine judges, however, seminars and workshops are a valuable learning experience for all people associated with horses and riding. These seminars are open to all - spectators are welcome.

Communication with membership

Dressage NSW magazine/newsletter called E-Centreline that circulates to all its members. E-Centreline features reports from committee members, information on events, entry details, up-dates on the latest rules, results, and interesting articles.

DNSW has its own web site: www.dressagensw.com.au and a popular Facebook page with 6500 subscribers and is well read and a perfect platform to share information on and for our sponsors
